

“Brother” Challenge

Objective:

This is not a timed event. The goal of this challenge is to assess not only the competitor’s accuracy, but also their ability to use quickly gathered information and apply it to the battlefield. When the competitor is staged and ready at the 25-yard line (PCC loaded and at the low ready position), the competitor running the drill (shooter) will check to make sure the other competitor (observer) is ready. Once they are, the observer will begin calling out steel targets in any order at their discretion, for a total of six. The observer calls targets one-by-one as the competitor is shooting. To successfully pass this challenge, the competitor and the challenger(s) must complete the tasks.

IMPORTANT: Not every steel target needs to be used for this challenge, but the observer must identify and call out six steel targets for the competitor/shooter. The observer calls steel targets one-by-one as the competitor/shooter is shooting. For instance, when starting the challenge, the observer will say, “standby...orange (shot), purple (shot), green, (shot), blue (shot), pink (shot), purple (shot). If the observe wants, they can call the same steel target six times.
