

“New Girlfriend Mod. 3” Challenge

Objective:

This is a timed event. The goal of this challenge is to quickly react to an unanticipated change in the environment and place a round on target accurately with the added difficulty of a combat reload. Once the competitor is staged and ready at the 30-yard line (PCC loaded and slung), they will check with the timekeeper and make sure they are ready. Once the timekeeper is set, the timekeeper will place an improvised blindfold (of any type, as long as it can be removed quickly) on the face of the competitor. The timekeeper spins the shooter slow enough so as not to induce dizziness but fast enough to render the shooter unsure of their orientation. At the timekeeper’s discretion, the timekeeper stops the shooter from spinning and yells “Go!” (time starts on GO). The shooter pulls the blindfold off, orients themselves to the targets and engages the silhouette steel target (pink) with 2 rounds. The bolt should lock to the rear following the last shot, at which point the competitor will perform a combat reload and engage the steel targets working tallest and largest to shortest and smallest. Following the fifth shot of the first magazine, the bolt should lock to the rear, at which point the competitor will perform a combat reload and engage the steel targets in the opposite order (shortest and smallest to tallest and largest). To successfully pass this challenge, the competitor and the challenger(s) must complete the tasks in the allotted time frame.
