

“That’s the Point Mod. 3” Challenge

Objective:

This is a timed event (must beat the competitors time). The goal of this challenge is to be accurate using point shooting and to quickly reload your PCC once it is empty. Before starting this challenge, the competitor will unload their PCC and show clear. Using painters/masking tape, they will fully cover their iron sites and/or optic (red dot/reticle not visible). If the optic has covers, they can use those instead of tape. They will then move to the 15-yard line, face down range, load their PCC, come to the low ready position, and check with the timekeeper and make sure the timekeeper is ready. Once the timekeeper is set, the competitor will say “standby...GO” and begin the drill (time starts on GO). The competitor will engage the silhouette steel target (pink) with 2 rounds. Following the second shot, the bolt should lock to the rear at which point the competitor will perform a combat reload and reengage that same target with 2 more rounds. This will continue until all magazines are complete. For instance, if the initial competitor completed this challenge in 21 seconds, all other challengers must complete this challenge in the same amount of time or less. If any or all challengers beat the competitors time, the initial competitor loses (but does not get a letter). If any or all challengers do not complete this challenge in the same or less time than the initial competitors time, the person with the higher time loses. To successfully pass this challenge, the competitor and the challenger(s) must complete the exercises and tasks.
